

Qilin Zhang

Boston, MA 02134 | 951-560-0983 | qilin808@gmail.com

Professional Summary

Graduate Business student with a concentration in Business Analytics has the ability to work alone to solve problems and has strong teamwork experience to pinpoint goals and work towards them. As an international student with a broader perspective and the ability to speak two languages, you can adapt to a variety of work situations and pressures.

Education

University of California-Riverside September 2021 - May 2024
Bachelors in Business Administration

- Relevant Courses: Decision Analysis & MGMT Science, Introduction to Computing, Introducing to Statistical, Information Technology Management, Organizational behavior

Boston University September 2024 - Present
Master of Applied Business Analytics

- Relevant Courses: Marketing Analytics, Data Mining for Business Analytics, Quantitative and Qualitative Decision-Making, Web Analytics for Business

Skills

- Flexible conversion between PC and macOS, and familiar with finance software programs (Microsoft Office Suite)
- Knowledge of simple business analytics tools and expertise in working with data in code. For example, R Studio, Python, etc.
- Strong enthusiasm and sensitivity to numbers, strong computational and statistical capabilities, and can adapt to larger workloads and large amounts of data processing.
- Bilingual: English and Mandarin. Fluent in daily communication and business conversation.

Internship Experience

Wushang Group, Investment department. China May 2024 - July 2024

- During the internship, we learned about the operation mode of private equity funds and negotiated with some potential partners of SMEs.
- For some of the potential targets, the investment is justified and the rate of return is determined by forecasting their development trends